A message from the Administrative Judge

Melissa A. Powers 2021-Present

It has been a pleasure to serve the citizens of Hamilton County for almost three decades. My experience as prosecutor, defense attorney and the last 16 years as Municipal and now as Juvenile Court Judge helped fuel my commitment to continuous learning, improvement and innovation. Our talented, skilled workforce and amazing leadership team are the heart and soul of our Court. Together, we work every day to change lives for the better and to dispense justice in a fair and impartial manner.

While serving as judge for Hamilton County's first Veterans Treatment Court, our Municipal Court team incorporated trauma responsive interventions to positively engage former soldiers in their journey to recovery. This experience gave me insight and understanding about the prevalence of adverse childhood experiences in the lives of justice-involved youth. It is clear that we must continue to build upon our approach to reach at-risk children even earlier.

I am proud of the Court's achievements over the last several years that resulted in Hamilton County receiving local, state, and national recognition.

- We leveraged our leadership position to open an Assessment Center in 2020 to increase school and community based diversion opportunities. Our Assessment Center in Clifton provides screening and service connection for first time and low risk youth to help them make better and more responsible decisions in the future. In 2021, the Center began using state-of-the-art analytical tools to ensure we provide the right service, for the right youth at the right time.
- Our Custody and Companionship Clinic won the Cincinnati Bar Foundation Grant for Impactful Programming by providing free legal services to loving families who are seeking custody of relatives when their parents may be unable to care for them. In 2021, 68% of the individuals served at the Clinic were females and 75% were individuals of color.
- The Ohio State Bar Association selected our Court as the winner of the Innovative Court Practices Award in 2020 for our School-Based Threat Assessment Program. This program closely examines a child's actions and mental health to positively intervene through the lens of school safety and behavioral health.

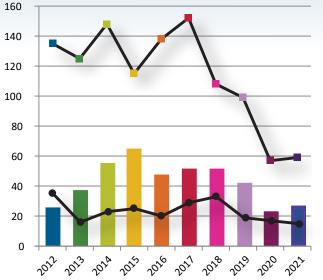

- Our Kid's in School Rule! partnership with Cincinnati Public Schools, Hamilton County Job & Family Services, Best Point Education & Behavioral Health (Best Point) and Legal Aid Society of Greater Cincinnati (Legal Aid) has broken down barriers to create educational supports for students in foster care resulting in record graduation rates that exceed 90% for eligible seniors. These numbers are all the more impressive when you consider that the national graduation rate for children in foster care ranges between 40% and 60%. The American Bar Association has recognized this collaboration as a national model.
- We continue to broaden our School and Community Diversion programs. After the pandemic, schools faced significant challenges in re-engaging students who suffered emotional, psychological and economic hardships because of the shutdown. We are supporting Cincinnati Public Schools Administration with efforts to re-engage students by deploying Court staff to work with kids who attend the Digital Academy and Virtual High School to overcome any difficulties and return to the classroom. This marks an expansion of the School Diversion programs in place at Aiken High School, Northwest Local School District, Oak Hills School District, Winton Woods, Mariemont, Loveland and Sycamore.
- We are gratified that our decades long efforts to address racial and ethnic disparities in the juvenile justice system have led to a data review and finding by the Counsel of State Governments that Court decisions impact youth of color equitably despite more delinquency complaint referrals for youth of color than white youth. We are pleased by these results but understand there is much more to do in addressing disparities at intake into our Court.
- We implemented a new Court-wide Compensation Plan in 2021 to provide competitive wages for our workforce. Additionally, the Court introduced a full continuum of strategies to retain staff and attract new talent for hard to fill direct care positions.

I am proud of the work we've done together to build a strong foundation for service and justice, and it has been a tremendous honor to serve the citizens of Hamilton County. Please join me in wishing Judge Bloom all the best as she carries the torch forward in January. I am confident Judge Bloom will honor the fine traditions of this Court and continue the commitment to excellence through the adoption of best practice programming for children and families that lead to a brighter future for all in our community.

With deep appreciation, uses two state-of-the-art re-Hamilton County Juvenile Court opened a new Assessment Center with grant funding from the Ohio Department of Youth Services in the winter of 2020. The Assessment Center provides screening, assessment and service connection for diversion cases and official cases prior to adjudication. In 2021, the Assessment Center served 243 youth and families, and 70% of those served were children of color.

In addition to the diversion tool from the Ohio Youth Assessment System, the Assessment Center uses two state-of-the-art research-based screening tools. The Terrace Metrics Tool assesses risk and resiliency factors that drive service planning and provide a full education curriculum for families. Additionally, the Court is administering Clairity, an instrument that relies on artificial intelligence and learning technologies to study speech and language detectors to help discern warning signs of distress, suicidal ideation and other behavioral health issues. These screening tools have been instrumental in customizing individualized responses and plans for each youth and family served.

The Court partnered with Justice Works in 2021 to deliver services and supports for youth struggling with issues of anger and aggression. Justice Works uses Anger Replacement Therapy, an evidence-based intervention that addresses social skills, anger control and moral reasoning.

The Court is pleased to share with the community that 100% of the youth who received service connection from the Center did not receive a new delinquency adjudication one year post discharge from the program. The feedback the Court received from parents focused on the benefits and positive impacts of prevention and early intervention assessments and service connections for their children.

My family really appreciated being a part of the Assessment Center. The Service Navigator gave me someone to speak with regularly when we had questions, they connected us to a therapist that was beneficial to our needs and helped us through the court process. This process can be scary and the Service Navigator made it easier. ~Parent he Court offers a full continuum of diversion programming that includes partnerships with seven school districts and their local law enforcement agencies to provide school-based diversion for truancy, failure to send and school-based offenses. The Court will be adding a new diversion docket in the fall of 2022 at the Cincinnati Digital Academy and Virtual High School through Cincinnati Public Schools. The Court also oversees unofficial dockets that divert youth charged with status offenses and non-violent misdemeanor offenses, alcohol and drug offenses, and traffic offenses.

The Court partnered with the Price Hill Community and BLOC Ministries in response to the rise in juvenile violence to provide prevention, early intervention and supportive services to youth and families from Price Hill. In 2022, the Court, Cincinnati Police Department and the City of Cincinnati will launch a pilot project that will target youth who reside in District 3 served by the Assessment Center and the Probation Department. The Assessment Center will provide screening and service connection, and each youth will be assigned a CPD officer who will provide mentoring, support and monitoring to help promote positive behavior change and build trust between youth, the community and law enforcement.

Additionally, the Court partners with eight communities and the Hamilton County Education Services Center who use volunteer hearing officers or agency staff to provide diversion services and opportunities for youth living in those communities or school districts.

In June of 2021, Court staff and representatives from our Youth Court presented to the Law & Leadership Institute sponsored by the University of Cincinnati with the goal of recruiting diverse youth of different races, ethnicities, neighborhoods and high schools to serve as jurors for this peer court.

Behavioral Health Dockets

For over a decade, the Court has operated two juvenile mental health courts for official cases, the Individualized Disposition Docket (IDD) and the Pretrial Diversion Docket. In 2021, the Court launched a new unofficial docket to support youth with behavioral health disorders using Diversion Conferences rather than formal court hearings to monitor the service delivery and treatment engagement.

The Diversion Conferences use the same home-based, family-centered treatment approach, which includes Functional Family Therapy, case management, med-somatic services and education advocacy through Lighthouse Youth and Family Services (LYFS). These dockets have consistently achieved positive outcomes for the children and families served related to improved functioning, increased hopefulness and decreased involvement with the juvenile justice system.

Judge Bloom began overseeing the Individualized Disposition Docket in 2021.

"The children and families involved in the Court's Individualized Disposition Docket bring unique strengths and needs to the resolution table. In collaboration with Lighthouse Youth Services and Juvenile Probation, I have seen children with mental health obstacles grow and overcome their challenges that in the past have lead to delinquency charges. IDD offers services to the family as a whole, with hopes for sustainable changes and positive growth for all those involved. I'm grateful to be a part of this program."

E CENTER The Youth Center, 1

he Youth Center, the Court's detention facility for juveniles, prioritizes the safety, security and well-being of its residents even in the most challenging times. While many schools struggled to provide in-person education for their students, the Court in partnership with Cincinnati Public Schools (CPS), ensures all residents at the Youth Center receive in-person education after receiving medical clearance. The Youth Center continues to participate in the Office of Juvenile

Justice and Delinquency Prevention's Performance-Based Standards
Program, and our medical and dental services are accredited by the National

Commission on Correctional Health

During the pandemic, the Youth Center consulted with Dr. Emmanuel Chandler and the staff at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center to implement health and safety protocols in the facility to combat the new waves of infection and transmission of the coronavirus. One of the critical measures to prevent infection and spread of the virus included asymptomatic testing upon admission and twelve days later after placement on a medical observation unit before transitioning residents to the general population.

In the face of a local, state and nationwide workforce shortages, the front-line heroes at the Youth Center worked diligently to restore in-person programming when safe to do so. Court staff engaged in herculean efforts to maintain contact between youth and their families when it has not been safe to host in-person visits. Additionally, the Court has provided pro-social activities in a safe manner such as music, singing, reading, games and our newest addition to recreational activities, ping-pong. The Court's Security Department has assumed an expanded role at the Youth Center assisting during the intake process and with transportation, courtroom facilitation and lobby management.

With guidance and support from Christina Tierney (CPS music teacher) and Penny Harris (CPS art teacher), residents at the Youth Center hosted a series of art shows and concerts. These photographs feature the works titled "White and Black" (male residents) and "Girl Power" (female residents). These events showcased the extraordinary talents of our residents and the amazingly creative instruction provided by our teachers!

Department

The Probation Department has a rich history of supporting training on best practices in the juvenile justice field as well as adopting evidence-based interventions when working with youth and their families. The Court's probation officers continue to use Effective Practices in Community Supervision and Carey Guides, two evidence-based tools, to promote meaningful engagement leading to positive behavior change and improved public safety.

In 2021, a group of the Court's female probation officers attended the 2021 Association for Justice-Involved Females and Organizations Conference. This training helped our gender-specific probation team learn and explore innovative and promising practices that effectively address accountability, competency and responses to meet the unique needs of girls involved in the juvenile justice system. The entire Probation Department also completed Mental Health First Aid training in the fall of 2021 to build confidence and skills in safely and responsibly identifying and addressing potential mental illness and substance use disorders faced by many of our youth.

~Artwork created by Youth Center residents

In 2021, a group of probation officers participated in the six-week Working UNDIVIDED course designed to provide education and foster conversations that lead to racial healing and justice. A second group of probation officers and the Court's behavioral health services team received this training in the summer of 2022.

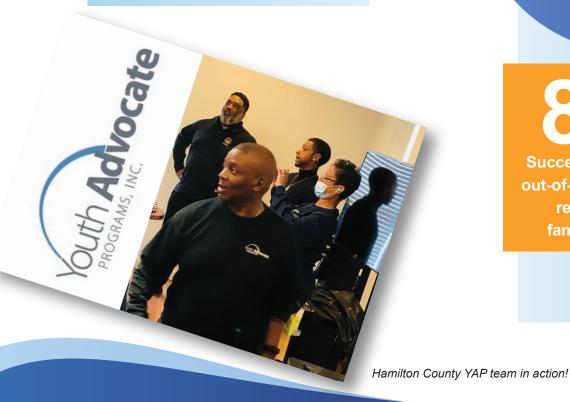

The Court has worked for years to address racial and ethnic disparities in the juvenile justice system and a recent study of Hamilton County data by the Council of State Governments showed Court decisions impact youth of color equitably despite more delinquency complaint referrals for youth of color than white youth.

Felicia Rosemond, Deputy Chief Probation Officer, is the lead representative for the Court on a statewide effort to address issues of race, equity and inclusion. Felicia attended the Working UNDIVIDED training in 2021, and noted:

Engagement in UNDIVIDED confirmed that the positive changes related to racism and all "isms" have to start with us as individuals to then hopefully impact change collectively.

While delinquency complaint filings have been declining for years, the increase in juvenile violence in 2020 and 2021 led to a decision by the Court to bring a new and innovative, promising practice to our community.

The Youth Advocate Program (YAP) has a proven track record working with high-risk, high-need youth with 97% of the children served nationally experiencing no new offenses while in the program. YAP relies on a wrap-around service delivery model that begins with the formation of a supportive team (family, community, school, employers and advocates/mentors) that helps to strengthen relationships, provide supportive services and enhance community connections. Nate Lett, Director of Hamilton County YAP, believes the success of YAP rests on its holistic approach in helping young people. "If you're not helping the family out, in addition to the youth, then you're putting them back into a difficult situation," and Mr. Lett added, "we must look at things from a family approach when we talk about helping youth."

YAP

At its core, this program is designed to provide an alternative to incarceration and keep children safely in their homes and communities. Hamilton County YAP served 30 youth in 2021.

Our Court's involvement with YAP has provided advocacy and support to ensure that court-involved youth reach their personal goals and Court mandated obligations by eliminating barriers that might hinder their sucess. The capacity to provide support for our youth and families in "real time" has been invaluable. It has been great to work with an agency that recogonizes life countinues to happen with our youth and families outside of the parameters of Monday-Friday 8 to 5.

Custody and Companionship Clinic

There is no question that the pandemic has taken a toll on Hamilton County families. New complaint filings alleging abuse, neglect and/or dependency increased by 33% from 2019 to 2021. The Court's Custody and Companionship Clinic is a partnership with Legal Aid Society of Greater Cincinnati and promotes equal access to the civil justice system for individuals who cannot afford legal representation. The Clinic offers free, short-term legal advice and assistance to low income individuals to help guide them through custody and visitation proceedings.

In 2021, the Clinic provided in-person and remote consultations with Legal Aid and volunteer lawyers serving 615 individuals. The Court also operates a Help Desk to assist individuals in completing forms and pleadings for custody and companionship filings. In 2021, the Court added an additional clerk to the Help Desk to assist with the increasing demand. Approximately 68% of individuals served at the Clinic and Help Desk were females and 75% were individuals of color in 2021. These services help families stay together through kinship care and avoid unnecessary involvement in the child protection system. Additionally, the Clinic and Help Desk advance the goals of achieving a safe, permanent and nurturing home for every child.
